

Our international passengers start clearing customs before our planes even land.

While we're flying your packages overseas, detailed shipment information is flying ahead on UPSnetSM, our global data network.

That gives UPS customs brokers in destination countries a sizable head start: from 2 to 36 hours. And that gives us extra time to sort out potential clearance problems before the packages even arrive.

As a result, UPS international shipments are well on their way while other delivery companies are still getting their paperwork in order.

What's more, this technology doesn't just make us faster and more reliable. It makes us more efficient. So we can deliver to over 180 countries and territories, usually for a lot less than other companies charge.

So next time you have an international shipment to send, just send it UPS.

After all, many companies can fly your packages overseas.

It's what we're doing while they're flying that makes all the difference in the world.

We run the tightest ship in the shipping business.[®]
